

I would be appalled if the ruling for the DO NOT CALL list was over turned. Telemarketers would call all day long starting at 8am until 9pm and would be rude to me. My family works different shifts so we all sleep at different times of the day and would be awoken by this nonsense. Now, I have a gravely ill father that would have to be disturbed by this trifling mess all day long. It is very peaceful during the day not to hear the incessant ringing of telephone.
